Communities for Change 2012 to Attract Leaders from National Nonprofit, Education and Public Sector Organizations

Book Before September 3 for an Early Bird Rate to Attend This Year's Leading National Symposium, Oct. 10-11 in Houston

AUSTIN, Texas – July 31, 2012 – nFocus Solutions®, the leading provider of performance management, training and outcome measurement solutions, is hosting Communities for Change 2012 on October 10-11 in Houston, Texas.

Communities for Change is an annual national symposium that attracts the brightest minds from nonprofit, education, foundation and public sectors. More than 150 leaders are expected to attend this year's third annual conference to exchange information about successes, lesson learned and opportunities to better bridge the achievement gap through integrated school and community partnerships.

Register before September 3 to take advantage of the Early Bird rate for a $100 discount off the regular registration fee. Group discounts are also available. The conference venue, The Westin Oaks Houston at the Galleria, is also offering a special hotel rate of $140 per night for attendees.

"Each year we look forward to giving our clients, which run the gamut from Boys & Girls Clubs, and United Way to Promise Neighborhoods, a format where they can network with each other and discover new resources, methods and partnerships to drive positive change in the communities they serve," said Ananda Roberts, president of nFocus Solutions. "Communities for Change 2012 promises to deliver an impressive lineup of speakers and timely, top-of-mind presentation topics for thought leaders and innovators who come to the event from leading organizations across the country."
